

THE TWO FACES OF THE SHOULDER GUY

Hi, my name is Luke Van Every and it's a long story but I became known as "The Shoulder Guy" well before I opened the doors to my practice. In fact, it was a nickname I was given by my work colleagues at the time, because all I talked about and wanted to treat were shoulders.

Truth be told though, that is not all I love to do.

While helping people with shoulder pain is where my initial influence starts, it's not long before we focus on a bigger vision, which for most people is to build their capacity and confidence for a more enjoyable and fulfilling life.

I help people achieve this goal through realistic, NO B.S. advice, exercise strategies and an empowering strength training philosophy.

It's fun, relatively simple and it works.
